ABOUT

Shannon Edwards is a creative, talented and passionate events manager with more than seven years of experience in the wedding and events industry.

She set up Shannon Edwards Events to provide a bespoke wedding and event planning service to people in and around London who want to see their dreams of a perfect wedding day or event become a reality.

Shannon says: “Nothing makes me happier than helping other people bring their vision to life with a show-stopping event – so it made perfect sense to set up a business dedicated to doing exactly that.

“I’m a firm believer that the key to an event’s success is attention to detail. Whether it’s a baby shower or a huge wedding, I plan everything in detail and treat every client as an individual in order to deliver a bespoke event that surpasses all expectation.

“As your wedding or event planner, it’s my mission to ensure every element comes together with efficiency and elegance. The flow, timing and execution of a wedding day or large event is as important as the little details – so you can count on me and my team to ensure your special day runs like clockwork.”
